PUBLICATION USE – NO FEE

The Lloydminster Regional Archives does not charge a usage fee for images used in publications such as books, magazines, newspapers, films, videos, CD-ROMS, DVDs, newsletters, brochures, posters, newscasts, and websites or in displays such as for décor in restaurants, hotels, businesses, or homes where the images are not for sale.

The purchaser assumes all responsibility under the terms of the Copyright Act for use of images purchased from the Lloydminster Regional Archives. For images that are to be displayed commercially and/or published, the purchaser must gain the authorization of the copyright owner.

ADDITIONAL NOTES

- $1 / DVD or CD supplied by LRA.
- Fees are payable when order is delivered. In the case of shipped or emailed orders, prepayment is required. If photos are being used for commercial reasons, staff will send them by e-mail at 72 DPI for perusal before payment to prevent unauthorized use.
- Postage/handling charges may apply. For special packaging, large orders, or expenses such as long distance phone calls, additional charges may also apply.
- Rush service (two working days) will be provided only if it is practical for the Archives to do so. All production costs are doubled for rush service.
- Prices are subject to change without notice.

*Lloydminster Regional Archives MUST be credited when using photographs or research material from this institution. If the photo is part of the Barr Colony Heritage Cultural Centre collection, this should be acknowledged as well.

How long do copyrights last?

General rule

The general rule is that copyright lasts for the life of the author, the remainder of the calendar year in which the author dies, and for 50 years following the end of that calendar year. Therefore, protection will expire on December 31 of the 50th year after the author dies. After that, the work becomes part of the public domain and anyone can use it.
